I have been sick after eating a chicken burrito, which I could not finish because pieces of the chicken was not fresh. I tried a burger and was disappointed in the quality of the meat for the price. They could buy better tasting burgers from a price club. Now I only buy drinks, salad or a BLT if I'm desperate.	Feb 10, 2012 7:40 AM

57	First of all the new seats are terrible! Why did we turn in padded seats with flexbacks for plastic seats as hard as a rock. The food quality is mediocre at best. I highly suspect the salad bar is not fresh. I had a chicken sandwich where a good part of the chicken was tough as leather, seemed like it was a week old. Please raise the salad bar sneeze guard, you can barely reach under it. Please get some decent plastic utensils, the forks are so bad they won't penetrate lettuce without bending - terrible. How about some fruit at the salad bar. Options need to be healthier and fresher, otherwise I'm going to stop coming, when the weather warms people are going to vote with their feet. 11	The food service and people have been most accommodating early on. Moderately sized meals and moderately priced will be a hit. I would try working something with coffee. Example, a special cup or mug is bought and then people get a small discount on all cups of coffee used with the special mug/cup. I would also conduct a survey and see if different sections would ever want you to cater small parties. Probably not a big business here but just a thought to get more customers to use your services. I appreciate you being here.	Feb 15, 2012 4:59 AM

18	food is ok nothing amaizing	Feb 13, 2012 11:58 AM
19	The service is slow at the register and personnel feel no sense of urgency when most of us are trying to get back to the office. The food is all fattening, deli meet is not fresh, salad bar can barely get your arms under the guard to make a salad. A majority of fried foods is the only fresh option. Overall unappealing and would prefer not to eat then to attempt to get anything healthful at the current cafeteria.	Feb 13, 2012 11:42 AM

31	Overall the food services are too expensive to entice me to go on a regular basis. It would be helpful to clearly post (at the entrance) when credit card machines are inoperable, as opposed to finding out at the register once you've already ordered and received you food.	Feb 13, 2012 8:31 AM

I have only been there when I have forgotten or need something in additional to the lunch I have from home. I suggest offering more gourmet sandwiches, wraps, salads, and soup. If the food was palatable, people would choose to eat at the cafeteria as it is inconvenient to leave the facility and get food elsewhere. 111	First, I have been pleased with the staff customer service. The quality of the food for the price is the main problem. After being ill more than once, I don't believe they are handling meats properly and watching expiration dates, especially when I can taste and smell the difference. Most salad bars allow you to have dressing on the side for free, not sell it by weight also. They are welcome to limit us to 1 side of dressing for a small and 2 dressings for a large, but offer some relief. A large salad by weight can cost you almost $10 downstairs. 136	The prices are too expensive! They never seem to have ice in the machines. Need more selections than what they already offers. Need more workers....because my 30minutes lunch is up when waiting in line for food and at the cash-register.	Feb 10, 2012 5:53 AM
137	I don't like I can't see my food being prepared.	Feb 10, 2012 5:51 AM
138	Prices should be reasonable and comparable to the local market	Feb 10, 2012 5:50 AM
139	I don't care about Gluten -free. Answer above is for a co-worker.	Feb 10, 2012 5:49 AM
140	Go to the pentagon food court and then go to the current food vendor at NSF arlington and you'll see the difference in food quality. a sald bar isn't just iceberg and romaine lettuce and croutons. everything in the current selection is overly greasy and unhealthy, and the quality is not there. It's very unsatisfying. People have complained of being sick after eating in the cafeteria too.	Feb 10, 2012 5:48 AM
141	Nice variety, friendly service.	Feb 10, 2012 5:46 AM
142	Need lower prices and healthier foods	Feb 10, 2012 5:45 AM
143	Coffee bar with fresh pastries.	Feb 10, 2012 5:43 AM
144	Subway would cover almost all the food issues. If that is not an option, more healthy options would be nice!	Feb 10, 2012 5:42 AM
145	I would like to see oatmeal and prepared salads offered.	Feb 10, 2012 5:41 AM
146	the facility is OK and meets my needs	Feb 10, 2012 5:39 AM
147	Use whole grain products for bagels, rolls, breads, etc Dont use so much grease in everything. Please make prices reasonable, they are too high.	Feb 10, 2012 5:35 AM
148	Owner is very nice. Credit card payments is a nice convenience.	Feb 10, 2012 5:32 AM
149	Would like to see some low fat dressing options.	Feb 10, 2012 5:31 AM
150	One resturant with semi-captive audience will seldom satisfy in reference to menu or price since they don't really have to work for their clientele.	Feb 10, 2012 5:24 AM

151	The dining area could be spruced up by nicer table cloths, pictures and nice lighting. The TV's are good, but could use a few more at different angles.	Feb 10, 2012 5:24 AM
152	Overall great service. The price is a little high	Feb 10, 2012 5:17 AM
153	none	Feb 10, 2012 5:16 AM
154	Need more options at a better cost.	Feb 10, 2012 5:16 AM
155	Overall the place has a dingy appearance.	Feb 10, 2012 5:13 AM
156	The dining room tables, chairs, floors are dirty which makes me not want to eat down there. A sandwich, chips and a drink are almost $10 and should be between $6 and $7 to compete + not great when you can't communicate what you actually want. I stopped coming as a result. Unless things change significantly, I won't come back.	Feb 10, 2012 5:10 AM
157	Better quality coffee and Subway recommended.	Feb 10, 2012 5:10 AM
158	I like egg salad sandwiches.	Feb 10, 2012 5:10 AM
159	The food is over salted, and a poor quality.	Feb 10, 2012 5:06 AM
160	The prices are costly, need to lower the prices some.	Feb 10, 2012 4:59 AM
161	Offer daily specials/percentages off.	Feb 10, 2012 4:57 AM
162	Good service and food, but expensive.	Feb 10, 2012 4:55 AM
163	It is typical of a cafeteria style facility. I eat here when I don't have any other option. Also, every establishment in this area has free refills. I managed a restaurant and know the price of much of the food, so it's just pure profit for them.	Feb 10, 2012 4:55 AM
164	Prices are a bit high on a lot of things. Taco Bar is priced about right, but the sandwiches and french fries (for example) are way too expensive.	Feb 10, 2012 4:53 AM
165	So far, very happy!	Feb 10, 2012 4:44 AM
166	I think that the people down there are nice and the service is good. However, I have found the food items to be hit or miss. Some items are OK and some items are not so good. I think that they should do more convenient store things where there are packaged items to go and more variety of items. Also, it is fairly expensive for what you get (especially when you factor in 9.5% tax!). Overall, it is nice to have something there in a pinch but I plan on bringing in my own food in the future to save money and obtain better consistency and health. Once I found out they were charging 9.5% tax I vowed to bring in my own food, that is too much in this economy.	Feb 10, 2012 4:43 AM
167	I understand that it's convenient to eat on site, but the price to product ratio is a huge detractor. An example is the grilled chicken and provolone. It's an extremely small sandwich for $5. Subway offers a 12in sub for the same price. The first time I ordered this sandwich, I got two chicken breast and a decent sized bun. The next time was one chicken breast and a significantly smaller	Feb 10, 2012 4:43 AM

	bun. More business is more profit. You want more business, price needs to match product size/portions.
168	Conform to the feedback provided in question 4.	Feb 10, 2012 4:42 AM
169	None.	Feb 10, 2012 4:42 AM
170	You are too expensive. Why would I pay $7-$9 for what costs me $4-$7 in town. Drinks are outrageous, as is water. The cost of your food is why I generally walk into town.	Feb 10, 2012 4:40 AM
171	Fresh vegetables would be good choice.	Feb 10, 2012 4:40 AM
172	The facility is actually pretty nice compared to what I was expecting. The salad bar is a really good option and the quality of the veggies is really good.	Feb 10, 2012 4:37 AM
173	Servers should have clean appearance (clean nails, clothes, etc). Also, it will be better if the owner can get one of those rolling toasters because it takes forever to toast a bagel.	Feb 10, 2012 4:30 AM
174	needs more name brand prepacked foods--ie skinny cow, hagen daus; carvel; fresh cakes; pies; fruits; build your own sundaes (fun food)	Feb 10, 2012 4:28 AM
175	Prices are VERY HIGH. Portion does not match cost. Sometime the help have gloves on and sometime they do not.	Feb 10, 2012 4:28 AM
176	The people are wonderful, but the food selection isn't healthy. I don't want chips or fries as a side, give me some more healthy side options! And the soups are not easy to access and don't taste good - very brothy, not very hearty. I really like the people, however. They are always a pleasure to talk to!!	Feb 10, 2012 4:24 AM
177	More egg should be provided when sandwiches are made. I shouldn't have more bread than egg.	Feb 10, 2012 4:23 AM
178	This facility should have an ATM.	Feb 10, 2012 4:21 AM
179	none	Feb 10, 2012 4:20 AM
180	My chief complaints are the attitudes of the staff (specifically the individuals at the cash register), the hours, and the prices (way too high).	Feb 10, 2012 4:16 AM
181	Food is good but above the average price charged	Feb 10, 2012 4:14 AM
182	The food is much too expensive for what you receive. The owner has no competition and seems to use that to gouge the customers. The building would be much better served with a "SUBWAY" and a convenience store.	Feb 10, 2012 4:14 AM
183	Would like to see a larger variety of items in the grab and go section.	Feb 10, 2012 4:12 AM
184	Due to the quality of the food...I have preferred to bring my lunch. The salad bar fixings are not palatable and do not appear fresh. The hamburger rolls are not quality bread...would prefer Kaiser rolls or seeded buns. Also, better more quality beef for burgers and hot dogs preferably Hebrew National. Breakfast choices smoked salmon for bagels, turkey sausage, corned beef hash for those	Feb 10, 2012 4:09 AM

186	I've been very pleased, though, at times, shocked by the prices ($1.37 for 1 english muffin). Overall, very happy though.	Feb 10, 2012 3:59 AM
187	Very expensive, soda's are old and flat, the line is long and slow which takes time from lunch. On the positive, the people are very friendly and courteous.	Feb 10, 2012 3:52 AM
188	Trays for diners would be useful.	Feb 10, 2012 3:48 AM
189	Are preservatives used on the salad bar items?	Feb 10, 2012 3:18 AM

193	I would rather pay a little more for a soft drink and get refills, or have the ability to pay 25 or 50 cents (including the taxes for simplicity) to refill my soft drink.	Feb 9, 2012 6:10 PM
194	Need better quality control of products. Somewhat tossed together. Lower prices and reduce drick costs. Better coffeefe required.	Feb 9, 2012 4:31 PM
