

Welcome Aboard!

Hello and welcome to Company D, Marine Cryptologic Support Battalion (MCSB) family and Fort Gordon, Georgia!

You are now joining one of the most highly respected units here on this U.S. Army installation and the premier service cryptologic command of National Security Agency/Central Security Service Georgia (NSAG). We are known for consistently producing quality results and enabling success, so as you join our team, do so with the intent to perform, because you will be working a critical mission to satisfy national, theater, and Marine Air/Ground Task Force (MAGTF) intelligence requirements.

Due to the independent nature of this command, the significance of its mission, and being a Marine in this Joint environment, expectations of you in performance and conduct are high. Rise to the challenge to meet and, more importantly, exceed expectations. We live by the MCSB motto "Mission First, Marines Always" and in my command philosophy I outline the importance of life balance and mutual respect, while avoiding complacency; let that be your guide as you begin this tour. There are exciting times ahead of you from possible deployment opportunities, working on highly relevant mission sets, but also enjoying yourself. This is a people business and while accomplishing the mission is paramount, I am very cognizant that the mission cannot be accomplished without people. Work hard, but also play hard. Spend time with family, be active in the community, take leave, develop your hobbies, and stay connected with friends. I am excited that you are joining our team and welcome once again to Company D!
