Security and Emergency Services Community of Interest Newsletter

Summer 2021

A Message from the Community Leader

Welcome to the Summer 2021 edition of the Security and Emergency Services Newsletter. I want to start by saying how incredible it was to get out of the Pentagon and once again conduct our annual town hall events. We use the town halls as a way to promote career roadmaps, introduce Subject Matter Experts (SME), advertise training and developmental opportunities, and foster community awareness in order to ensure civilian professional development programs contribute to human capital management objectives. The SES team and I visited with the Civilian Marines aboard Marine Corps Support Facility New Orleans in May, Marine Corps Base Camp Lejeune, and Marine Corps Air Station Cherry Point in June. It was a pleasure speaking with the members of the SES COI. We appreciate the time you all took out of your day to learn about career roadmaps, training, and COI initiatives. If you have not had a chance to read through your career roadmap, please download it here. We look forward to our upcoming FY22 roadshows where we will head to Marine Corps Base Hawaii, Marine Corps Base Camp Pendleton, Marine Corps Air Station Miramar, and Marine Corps Recruit Depot San Diego.

I would like to take the time to highlight the recipients of the CY2020 Security and Emergency Services Civilian Marine of the Year Award and the Security and Emergency Services Lifesaving Award. The Civilian Marine of the Year Award recognizes a Civilian Marine who exercises original thinking, ingenuity, initiative and achieves significant results, e.g., process improvements, customer service and/or productivity in the area of S&ES. The Security and Emergency Services Lifesaving Award is presented to a Civilian Marine who has performed a heroic or lifesaving act in the line of duty. As always, the selection board was presented with an outstanding slate of individuals. The CY 2019 winners are:

The S&ES Civilian Marine of the Year Award recipient is Mr. Kieth Simas, Services Officer, Security Battalion, MCB Quantico, VA

The recipient of the S&ES Civilian Lifesaving Award is Officer Karl V. Bobbio, Office of the Provost Marshal, MCAS Yuma, AZ)

Please lookout for the MARADMIN in March of 2022 soliciting nominees for CY2021 Security and Emergency Services Civilian Marine of the Year Award and the Security and Emergency Services Lifesaving Award.

Once again, thank you all for what you do day in day out to keep our bases, stations, and facilities safe and secure. Your selfless service to our country and Corps does not go unnoticed.

Semper fidelis,

Randy R. Smith
Assistant Deputy Commandant (Security)

FY22 SES COI Funded Training

By Mr. Maceo Franks
S&ES COI Manager

Did you know that the SES COI program can fund training? The S&ES COI is committed to helping members grow professionally by providing developmental opportunities throughout their careers. COI members are encouraged to review their occupational series career roadmaps and work with their manager and/or mentor to identify a plan to help reach personal goals. COI Funded training requirements are coordinated annually, via the Annual Training Plan (ATP) prior to the next fiscal year.

In FY21 SES COI received $208,504 to fund training such as the Management of the Small Law Enforcement Agency course from Southern Police Institute as well as critical emergency dispatching training and certification courses.

In order to receive COI training funds civilian SES COI personnel must request the funds through their base, station, or facility Human Resource Development Strategic Advisor (HRDSA)/Command Training Manager (CTM). FY22 training fund requests submissions are fast approaching. HRDSAs/CTMs, will reach out to Civilian S&ES personnel for FY22 training fund submissions requests, which must include training dates, training cost, travel/TAD costs, and associated competency, in the near future.
