1. Situation. This Order promulgates policy on Readiness Inspections and Assessment functions and programs for the Inspector General of the Marine Corps.

2. Cancellation. MCO 5040.6G.

3. Mission. “To be the eyes and ears of the Commandant.” The Inspector General of the Marine Corps (IGMC) has a unique leadership role as an independent voice for the Commandant and his commanders, as prescribed in reference (a), to promote those values that are, and will continue to be, the hallmark of our Corps. The Inspector General’s responsibility to inspect, assist, and assess the quality of our Corps will continue; but the future requires more. The Office of the Inspector General (IG) will examine avenues for professional development and growth within our Marine Corps family. Additionally, the IG will promote ideals of economy, conscience and special trust amongst all Marines and instill in our service members an enduring legacy of excellence through service that will help propel our Corps through the 21st century as the most ready and responsive force America has to offer.

DISTRIBUTION STATEMENT A: Approved for public release; distribution is unlimited.
4. Execution

a. Commander’s Intent and Concept of Operations

(1) Commander’s Intent. This Order is to be utilized by all major subordinate commands (MSC) and above exercising general courts-martial authority and promulgates the U.S. Marine Corps Readiness Inspections and Assessment order.

(2) Concept of Operations. All MSC commanders and above and commanding officers of Marine Corps bases will institute the Commandant’s Inspection Program conforming to this order. This Order will be published and all pertinent personnel will be informed of its contents.

b. Coordinating Instructions. Although there is not a requirement to write individual unit inspection directives and orders, each command is encouraged to do so in order to consider command specific elements as established in the unit-level initiating directive. However, in the event of a conflict, this Order and NAVMC DIR 5040.6H will take precedence.
