

Moral Living

Marines make personal choices from the sources that guide their moral living and their decision making process. They must reflect upon and evaluate past decisions in order to inform their current and future decisions.

SENTINEL JAWLIPS

A compass needle will always point to magnetic north. What do you personally use regularly to ensure your decisions are properly aligned?